Quote of the month:

"Nothing that is outside can change your inner life, no matter how much you may seem to be affected by what happens, by what people say and do, by stellar influences, or by anything else in your environment."

- Paul Foster Case, Occult Fundamentals and Spiritual Unfoldment

Magical Tip:

"Before the student commences with any extended involvement with advanced magical techniques, he or she should first concentrate on gaining proficiency in the art of relaxation [to avoid being] beset by a horde of extraneous ideas which lead to distraction."

Order by October 9th to ensure delivery by Halloween!

Samhain/Halloween is a time when the veil between the world is the thinnest. With the doorway opened, spirits of the dead are able to move freely between their world and the world of the living. The tradition of giving out candy at Halloween is based in bestowing an offering to appease the spirits so they would not harm the living.

With the veil allowing access to the other side, it's the best time for divination and to receive messages from the spirit realm. Halloween is a holiday to honor our ancestors that have crossed over, letting them know that they are still remembered.

For Witches, Samhain marks the New Year and is a wonderful time to set goals and get messages for the next twelve months. I find October's Blood Moon (a.k.a. Harvest Moon) to be particularly powerful for spellcraft and putting intentions out to the Universe for manifestation.

Meet my special guest - Barbara Reynolds!

Barbara and I were destined to meet; we were both on a teleconference where the host split us up into groups and put us in separate "rooms." Barbara and I were put together and immediately knew we were to stay in touch. We exchanged contact information and now we are partnering on a variety of projects that will benefit our clients! You never know where the next great connection will be made, so always stay open to opportunities.

I'll be on her radio show on October 9th (see listing under Events) and she'll be doing a class for the Wing Academy of Unfoldment on How to Connect to Your Guidance Using Automatic Writing. Stay tuned for that announcement in a separate e-mail.

Barbara Reynolds is a Life Coach and Spiritual Healer who provides channeled intuitive readings to her clients to help them understand what is for their highest good. You can check out her website at www.divinelyguidedhealing.com

The following is a channeled message she received specifically for the readers of the Forest Witch Magical Monthly. This message contains an energy that will touch all who read it.

A Message for You

You are worthy because you are. Nothing or no one can ever diminish your worth. It is a constant state of your being. There are times when you, yourself, block your own connection with the flow, Source/Creator, but this is your choice. Creator never blocks that connection. You are always surrounded by love. You are always loved. There is never a time when you are forsaken. NEVER. NEVER. NEVER.

Your beliefs in separation from Creator are based on what you have been taught by others. Over time you have seen these teachings played out and decided they are true. And it has created much unrest within you. Much fear and despair. You know that Source is your provider and to have that connection broken represents death to your soul. This is why so many suffer. You see your life as meaningless and less because you believe you can be separated from the Creator. We tell you that it is not true. There is no way to disconnect from Love. There is nothing but Love. You are Love.

Believe in Love. Believe in yourself. Believe in your connection. Believe in the flow. Allow yourself to Be. Believe in You. That is all that is required to change your world. Love is.

and serenity

An intuitive consultation can open the way to heightened awareness and personal growth. An insightful reading cuts through the drama of a situation and enables you to tune in to what's important. Issues will surface regarding your personal and spiritual development. Much of what comes through is about your fears, hopes, and ambitions. It can be startling to reveal underlying causes for what is being manifested in your life.

"Diane guides and heals you -- with whatever tools you wish such as the tarot, reiki, and teaching skills -- using her tremendous psychological insight, mystical intuition, and most of all, her huge compassion. In short, she's a powerhouse! Go to her with your burning questions, insecurities, and blind spots that come with living life (especially in this day and age), and leave with answers, growing confidence, and gray clouds parting to make way for sunny hope and faith once again." - Sheryl, Pennsylvania

"Thank you so much for my reading last night! I continue to be blown away by your insight and accuracy. You have brought me great relief and hope for better things to come. I have spread the word to a few girlfriends who are equally excited about your next visit to Denver." Cindy Everetts, Denver, CO

Sessions will take place at 36 N. Church St, Doylestown PA 18901

Tarot as a Tool of Growth and Enlightenment Workshop

PLAN AHEAD! SIGN-UP TODAY!

November 22, 2009 - 2 pm to 4 pm

Do you want to discover a new way of understanding yourself and others? This 2-hour class will discuss tarot as a tool of self-awareness rather than as a means of fortune telling. You'll learn to use the cards to gain valuable insights about yourself, others, and situations, as well as how to use the cards as a springboard for private explorations in your journal.

In the first hour, you'll learn about the various energetic bodies, which suits they correspond to, and how individual patterns and tendencies reveal themselves in the cards. During the second hour, students will practice using the cards to reveal their own patterns and to test various life paths and options. Bring your favorite tarot deck and a notebook to class with you! No prior experience necessary.

Celebrate the Season of the Witch

Coven is the perfect novel to curl up next to a crackling fire as the nights grow increasingly dark and follow the mystical adventures of the Triad Witches, an immensely powerful group of sorceresses once charged with the protection of the Scrolls of the Four Winds, sacred texts containing spells that balance Good and Evil in the world. Centuries have passed since the Coven of the Triad Witches worked their magical abilities together in ancient Mesopotamia. They have reincarnated together in many lifetimes over the last two thousand years. But this time, Victoria intends to control the Coven and wield the power of the Scrolls herself. Sisters in magic with ties more binding than blood, must face a dangerous journey into the unknown to rekindle their ancient powers and fulfill their true destiny as protectors of the Scrolls of the Four Winds.

Readers Rave!

"I'm half way through Coven and it's wonderful! Really, I feel like I'm always reading (learning books) and to read this is a real treat. I'm finding myself trying to stretch it out as I don't want it to end.:) Are you planning on writing another book of this sort? [Yes, I'm currently working on Coven II. I'm so glad you're working on a second Coven; I'll be running to the computer to get that as soon as it's available. I told my husband that I could see this book as a movie, like the Harry Potter adventures. It's that good." -- Kelly Withers, Niverville, NY

"I finished your novel last night! I LOVED IT!!! It really took me to another world as I read it. Really! I found myself getting anxious for the heroines too, which is a commentary to your excellent character development. I really enjoyed the experience!" -- Nila S., Dallas, TX

"I read your book in a day - couldn't put it down! Loved the characters, the imagery and the wealth of knowledge all wound into a spellbinding story. Congratulations! It is very, very well done!!" -- Suzanne K., Lower Merion, PA

"I just finished your book "Coven." It was fabulous and hit many personal experiences head on. It is a relief and exciting to not feel alone in these." - Carrie Aitken, Broomall, PA

Ask Arachne: Question: I'm trying to manifest a job and nothing is working. Can you give me some information about how I do this as quickly as possible?

Answer: When you're trying to attract anything in your life - a job, a relationship, health - the energy for what is desired to manifest externally must be aligned with the energy you hold on the inside. Whatever the dominant thought is around what you want is what you will attract. When it is coupled with a burning desire; your emotions tell the Universe what you believe - it manifests more quickly. If you believe in your heart that you have skills that would benefit a company, if you feel deep down that the right opportunity is around the corner, and if you imagine yourself being congratulated by your friends on getting the job, then it will manifest in a short period of time. If, on the other hand, you are fearful because money is running low, you have self-doubt about how your skills compare to other job seekers in the market, you worry that you won't make the right impression during the interview, then odds are the job will not manifest. Rather, that which you focus on - fear, doubt, and worry - will signal to the Universe that this is what you wish to attract! Overcome the negative thoughts by: 1. Trusting that the Universal Energy is your source of supply with the capacity for unlimited abundance, 2. By staying open to all opportunities that come your way, 3. By thinking, speaking, and acting positively all the time about yourself and your skills, and 4. Expecting to be getting the right position very soon. EXPECT that it will happen, imagine the way you want things to be (the hours you'll work, the feeling you'll have by performing work that is to your liking), and believe in yourself. Your life mirrors what is inside of you, so release all negativity and embrace that which serves you and your goals. You'll soon attract the right position! Blessings, Diane
